

ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

Rev. Berton A. Fisher has resigned his pastorate of the Baptist church in North Springfield and accepted one in Huntington, Pa.

William Clark of Vergennes had four fingers on his right hand severed nearly to the wrist while operating a corn husking machine in Charlotte.

F. A. Amaden of Greensboro Bend had 10 hens killed by skunks in one night. The next night he set a barrel trap and found two skunks in it the next morning.

The supply of water in Bennington at the present time is so scarce that the utmost care will have to be used by the residents in order to have a supply in case of fire.

Fred Hutchinson and Jefferson Flint of the hamlet in Brattleboro called Peth recently found a bee tree with about 125 pounds of honey, and D. L. Bass of the same place, while ploughing recently, found a box containing a diamond ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. C. Noor-dway, who were recently married in Brattleboro, are to make an airplane flight to Omaha, Neb., a distance of about 1,200 miles. Mr. Noor-dway hopes by this flight to win some international prizes. His wife was Miss Bertha Piggott, teacher of home economics in the Brattleboro schools.

Mrs. Edward Porter of Orleans suffered a broken nose and lacerations of the face in an automobile collision near Orleans last Wednesday night, according to a report received at the secretary of state's office. Mrs. Porter was taken to Orleans hospital. The car in which she was riding was driven by her husband. The other party to the collision was Floyd Kennison of Irasburg, who was driving a car owned by the Jersey Star Creamery association.

Stanley Fleury of Burlington visited his mother in Isle La Motte recently and on his return home took bugs of vegetables and apples. After passing through the steaming gear broke and he had to leave the car long enough to go to a house and telephone for an auto to tow him into Burlington. In his absence the car was filled of the apples and garden produce, also two clocks, which Mr. Fleury was taking to Burlington for his mother to have them repaired.

Springfield voters held a special meeting Oct. 23 and voted to bond the town to cover an indebtedness of $120,000. Town Clerk Lawrence presented to the town a beautiful town seal, the design of himself and Russell W. Porter. The seal is to be two inches in diameter and shows a view of the falls in that village. At the left side stands the figure of a mechanic with one hand resting on a mallet, with the other outstretched and holding a scroll. The figure is symbolic of the industrial life of the town. The mechanic's foot rests on a gear, the result of invention and industry combined. In the lower part of the design appear the figures, "1787," the date of the town's incorporation. Around the seal are the words, "Town of Springfield, Vermont."

Between 16 and 20 men are employed at the new granite quarry in West Dummerston of the Presbury-Leland Quarries, Inc., and the quality has been found exceptionally good. Stone is now being gotten out of the quarry for a soldiers' monument to be erected in New Jersey. Two derricks are already available and another will be erected in a few months. Thus far about 150 carloads of granite have been shipped, most of it to the railroads for riprap work, since the work of opening the quarry has only just begun, but several carloads of fine monumental stone have also been quarried and shipped. A block of the Dummerston light granite weighing 12 tons is nearly ready for shipment now. The soldiers' monument to be erected in Kearney, N. J., and dedicated next Memorial day will be 17 feet four inches high and will include statues, the granite monument to be erected in New Jersey. The monument will be a bronze eagle. As there are no cutting sheds in Dummerston, the rough stone is shipped to the Presbury-Leland works in Barre. Work will continue uninterrupted through the winter except when weather conditions are prohibitive.

Japan's Fear of America.

The fear in Japan of America's superior resources is already immense. Japan does not occupy a very large place in our foreign horizon. America almost fills the entire horizon of Japan. It looms as large to Japan as America looms to an American outside of Japan. Japan to realize how enormous the fear of the United States, in connection with the racial discrimination issue, is the chief political asset of the imperial general staff. From the New Republic.

A Pleasant Reminder.

The master passed a handkerchief to the disreputable hobo, remarking curtly, "If you don't mind, eat it outside." "Bless yer, I'm used to it," he answered. "When I was at home and in clover, as it were, it was me daily custom, when dinner me done, to announce to me taid, 'Parkins, don't wait dinner for me to-night, I'm dining out.'"—American Legion Weekly.

School Days.

"O, daddy, look! I know my tables. Listen: Ten make a cent, 10 cents make a dime, 10—"

THE FAMOUS RATHSKELLER

NATIVE OF VERSHIRE.

G. T. Morris of Lancaster Appointed, to Federal Bench.

Lancaster, N. H., Oct. 31.—George Franklin Morris' appointment to the federal bench has been favorably received by bench and bar. Mr. Morris came here in 1906, at which time he became connected with the law firm of Drew, Jordan & Shurtleff. Mr. Jordan was a former governor and Mr. Drew is a former United States senator. The firm of Drew, Shurtleff, Morris & Co. has a large general practice. Mr. Morris has been recognized as one of the state's leading attorneys.

Mr. Morris was born in Vershire, Vt., April 13, 1866. He was educated in the public schools, at Corinth academy and the state normal school. He taught school after graduation, studying law in the meantime. He was admitted to the bar in 1881. Previous to coming to Lancaster he practiced at Lisbon and represented that town in the legislature, also at the constitutional convention.

Mr. Morris has been head of the board of education for many years. He also finds time to give attention to the management of a large farm near Lancaster. For several years he was president of the Coos county farm bureau. He has been president of the New Hampshire Bar association and is at present on the state board of examiners. He is a recognized authority on the White mountain and its history.

Mr. Morris is married. There is one son, Robert, a student of Lancaster academy.

Hen Thieves Sentenced.

St. Johnsbury, Oct. 31.—In California county municipal court Saturday, Judge Harry Blodgett presiding, O. R. Baker, Tony Ravelli, Joseph Vaddette and Philip Novelli pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny in connection with the theft of more than a score of hens from the farm of Homer Penniman of this village.

Sentences varying from six months to two years in the state prison at Windsor were given the quartet.

Nothing Like That.

"I can't think what to buy my husband for a birthday present."

"Why not get him a good, comfortable, easy chair?"

"No, indeed! It's hard enough now to get him to take me out on an evening."—New York Sun.

ON FREE LIBRARY BOARD.

Joseph I. Wheeler of Benson Named By Gov. Hartness.

Governor James Hartness has appointed Joseph I. Wheeler of Benson a member of the free public library commission, to hold office until Jan. 31, 1922. Mr. Wheeler's appointment fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Walter P. Smith.

Mr. Wheeler has been librarian of the public library at Fair Haven recently. He was born in Dorchester, Mass., in 1884. He took his Ph. B. at Brown university in 1906, winning the class of '73 prize, and his M. A. at Brown in the following year. He has studied library work at the New York State library school, taking the degree of B. L. S. in 1909. He is a member of the American Library association and the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Getting Them Placed.

"You seem to be going on the theory that the audience doesn't know anything," protested the confidential friend.

"This audience," replied Senator Sorghum, "isn't supposed to do the knowing. It is supposed to do the yes-ing."—Washington Star.

No More Gas in Stomach & Bowels

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in the stomach and bowels, take Baalman's Gas-Tablets.

Baalman's Gas-Tablets are prepared distinctly and especially for stomach gas, and particularly for all the bad effects coming from gas pressure.

That empty, gassy and aching feeling at the pit of your stomach will disappear; that anxious and nervous feeling with heart palpitation will vanish, and you will once more be able to take a deep breath, so often prevented by gas pressing against your heart and lungs.

Your limbs, arms and fingers won't feel cold and go to sleep, because Baalman's Gas-Tablets prevent gas interfering with the circulation; intense drowsiness and sleepiness after dinner will soon be replaced by a desire for some form of entertainment. Your distended stomach will reduce by inches because gas will not form after using Baalman's Gas-Tablets.

What Are "Morals."

The children's court in New York has summoned more than 200 of the city's educators, editors and other prominent men and women for symposium on the subject, has a child of five morals—as the result of a legal contention in a case on trial.

What are morals? There is no question but that a child of five, properly brought up, knows that it is wrong to steal or to lie. How does he know it? He will be punished if he does either.

But the argument will be made that the child is swayed by fear and not by morality. A man of thirty is tempted to steal but refrains. Why? Often, too often, it is because he is afraid of apprehension and punishment. Consciously or subconsciously there is fear of reprisal, if not in this world, then in the next.

There are those who will claim that they do the right thing because it is right. How do they know it is right? Is it not because the experience of generations has shown that punishment inevitably follows failure to do certain things a certain way?

The student of ethics can perhaps show that fear does not always enter into a consideration of right or wrong, but it will require convincing evidence to prove that the boy of five and man of twenty-five are not morally curbed by the same shadow—the fear of punishment.—St. Louis Star.

Milder Methods.

"Your constituents indulged in some rough work at the polls."

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "Sometimes I think it might be better to get back to the old days when a boss could hire a man instead of taking a club to him."—Washington Star.

Not Kept at Home.

"Do your neighbors keep chickens?" asked the visitor.

"No," replied the disconsolate man who owns a garden. "They just feed 'em and have the eggs. We keep 'em most of the time."—Stray Stories.

The man who produces the necessities of life is nearer the fountain head of wealth than anyone else.

The farmer gets close to old Mother Earth and learns the secret of the ages—making two dollar bills grow where only one dollar bill grew before. We have some fine prospects in which you should become interested; reasonably priced, too.

No. 1537. Only $600.00 required to secure this 100 acre farm with stock and tools; five cows, two year old heifer, five head of young stock, two horses, tools, silage, hay, etc. Clapboarded barn with basement; silo; tie-up for fourteen head of stock; ten house corn barn and garage. Six-room house, painted; tillage is productive and early; fruit orchard; about 600 sugar from country's largest soft wood for home use; located on good road; children carried to school. Price for all is only $2500.00 and owner might take a house in part payment.

No. 1420. Main road three miles from Waterbury; all equipped with eight cows, horse, poultry, hay and silage; tools including 250 sugar buckets and practically a new building. Price for everything is only $3500.00. There are 100 acres; fields practically level; wood enough to pay for it; only three miles to market. This is a good value and the buildings much better than you would expect at the price.

No. 1527. 140 acres which can be made to carry thirty cows easily. Three miles from Waterbury and four miles from Graniteville; the main road is a good one; especially well; soil is very good; one barn about 60x30 ft. and one 25x30 ft., also hay house and grain barn; good stable with tie-ups for 18 head; very good house; two room house; never failing water. Price $2,000.00 and owner will include five cows, one yearling hay, silage, cream separator, and all farm machinery. This is a money making proposition.

The road to independence for many is via the farm. Why not you?
